TO-DAY'S DISPATCHES.

Dynamite Bombs Smuggled Into the Chicago Gaol.

Hon. E. Blake Reported Arrested --Married a Corean.

PROSECUTING THE NIHILISTS.

PARIS, Nov. 7.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg this morning says: Another Nihilists plot which is supposed to have been prepared against the life of the Czar, has been discovered. In a house near Catharine Canal is a pharmacy belonging to one Schapp, a German. The police were advised by neighbors that the house was suspected. They made a descent and discovered a number of bombs, dynamite, and a number of revolutionary proclamations. The trial of eighteen young army officers as Nihilists has just concluded, and resulted in one being condemned to eight years in the mines in Siberia, and the others to simple banishment.

SULLIVAN AFTER MITCHELL.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—John L. Sullivan has notified Mitchell that he will meet him to-morrow and make a match for a fight, provided Mitchell brings a forfeit of money with him.

THANKS THE MAYORS.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The Gazette says: "The Queen, through Mr. Matthews, Home Secretary, wishes to express her warm thanks to the mayors and municipal officers of the towns throughout the kingdom for the zeal, loyalty, personal exertions and sacrifices which contributed so much to render her jubilee a conspicuous historical event. The Queen is conscious of how efficiently they were seconded by the unanimous and cordial concurrence of all her subjects, whose affection and loyalty were never exhibited with more warmth, and will never be forgotten by her."

FIFTY YEARS A SOLDIER.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The Prince of Wales attended a banquet given to-day by the United Service club to the Duke of Cambridge, in honor of the 50th anniversary of his joining the British army. The Duke of Cambridge will be appointed commander-in-chief by patent. The last patent issued was to the Duke of Wellington.

AMERICAN NEWS.

PLEADED NOT GUILTY.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—Mrs. Clara Belle McDonald, charged with an attempt to murder her father-in-law, pleaded not guilty to-day. She will be tried on the 21st.

MARRIED A COREAN.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—There is quite an excitement in naval circles over the announcement that Lieutenant Foulke, of the navy, has married a native girl of Corea. The Lieutenant was sent to Corea three years ago to represent the United States Government and most of this time has acted as minister. He has acquired the language and a liking for the people, which he exemplifies by marrying the daughter of a nobleman connected to the King's household. Foulke told his friends that he should resign and settle there. The King is very fond of him. He lives in the palace and will undoubtedly be made a prince or duke at least as soon as he becomes a subject of Corea.

THE SENATE AND THE COMMISSION.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—A special from Washington to-day says: Senators now in the city are remarking on the peculiar situation they will find themselves in, in four weeks from to-day on the fisheries question. Just before they adjourned last March they declared, by almost unanimous vote, and after a long discussion, that they wanted no commission and no negotiations, but desired our Government to stand up to its present treaty with Great Britain, and simply to demand its rights. Very soon after Congress adjourned commissioners were appointed to meet with those from Great Britain here this week, and when the Senate convenes it will be confronted with the nominations of these commissioners. The Senators declare they will not confirm the appointments or vote the money to pay salaries or expenses of the commissioners, and there is no fund from which to meet these outlays in the Department of State; but there is yet another embarrassment which may be presented. What will the Senate do with the treaty the commissioners will present, suppose it is a desirable one? Can the Senate refuse to ratify it, simply because it said it did not want a treaty or commissioners?

BOMBS SMUGGLED INTO GOAL.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The Times this morning has a long editorial on the discovery of six bombs in the anarchist Ling's cell yesterday. It says: The scheme to furnish Ling with bombs was evidently carefully thought out by some of his co-partners in crime on the outside. Several days ago a fancy soap box was brought to jail and just now, in the heat of excitement, the officials say they cannot remember who delivered it. They may know who it was, but if they do they will not say so until they have made some arrests. The box was harmless looking and was handled in a rough manner, as jail officials usually do these things. A hasty examination disclosed the fact that to all appearances it contained nothing more than a few delicacies, for which even such a human tiger as Ling has appetite. Had the police and deputies known that there were bombs lying around loose in such close proximity they would not have felt so easy. But they were in ignorance of any danger, and they would probably have continued so had it not been for a raid on Ling's cell. It was then that the magnificent looking soap box was found to have a false bottom, and it was underneath that the bombs were smuggled into the jail.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The police have just arrested John Van Plinsky and John Vater Rivas, well known socialistic characters, who were loitering around the jail late on Saturday night. The police say Van Plinsky was trying either to peer into one of the cell room windows from the alley or trying to break it open, they could not tell which, for they caught him before he had a chance to carry the design he may have had into effect. Rivas was standing near the entrance to the alley as if watching for the approach of policemen. Van Plinsky and Rivas are known to have been identified to a greater or less extent with the red flag movement during the days the public meetings were addressed by Spies and Parsons.

CHAMBERLAIN ARRIVES.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The Cunard steamer Etruria, in which Chamberlain was a passenger, arrived this morning.

THE SECOND CRUISER.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Irving M. Scott, of the Union Iron Works, San Francisco, to-day received the signed contract for the second steel cruiser to be built by his company for the government.

FAST TRAIN.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—On and after November 15th a fast train will leave San Francisco at 3 p. m. daily, and will arrive at New York at 1:30 p. m. on the fifth day.

ASKING FOR CLEMENCY.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 7.—The governor's mail this morning was composed of a little over one hundred letters, nearly all of which related to the Anarchists' case. This is an increase over any previous day. The proportion of the requests for clemency is also said to be somewhat greater than yesterday.

SMALL POX.

BENSON, Arizona, Nov. 7.—The deputy sheriff of this county, who returned this morning from a hunt for horse thieves in Sonora, Mexico, reports small pox raging in several districts especially in Bavispe. The deaths number 20 or 30 per day.

EARTHQUAKE.

Severe shocks of earthquake were felt here last night, shaking up things generally.

INHERITS A LARGE FORTUNE.

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Thomas Maguire, a workingman with four children living near Fall River, received a letter yesterday from a solicitor in Denver informing him that he had been appointed executor of the will of his bachelor brother, Bartholomew Maguire, who left a fortune estimated at three million five hundred dollars, principally invested in gold and silver mines. Bartholomew left Fall River about fifteen years ago, and the fortune is bequeathed to six brothers and sisters of the deceased.

THE LAST STRAW.

OMAHA, Nov. 3.—George Francis Train was greatly agitated over the news from Washington. When asked what he thought about it he said: "There is something behind this, and I will leave at once for Canada. There is nothing more for me here. There is no use in my defying the police now. I shall expatriate myself in Canada. That will settle the question of my lunacy forever," said he in conclusion, with tears in his eyes.

STRONGEST KIND OF DYNAMITE.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Sheriff Matson said this morning, referring to the six bombs discovered in anarchist Briggs' cell yesterday, there is no doubt as to the nature of the stuff found in Briggs' bombs. He said that part of the filling had been taken out of a couple of pipes and exploded, and that it had been found to be the strongest kind of dynamite. Amnesty people have their tables in the street again this morning, but there has been less disposition on the part of people to sign the petition than on Saturday, and but few names have been secured.

SHOOTING DOWN NEGROES.

PATTERSONVILLE, La., Nov. 7.—Trouble has been threatening this neighborhood for some time past. The negroes have been talking freely of burning the town. It is stated that one who is now a prisoner, has made a full confession of the plot, which was to have been carried into effect on Saturday night. Troops were quartered on the steamboats lying about a mile from town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, one on the right occupied by a white man named Hubbard, and the one on the left by colored people. Here, as the troops approached, they found a crowd of from 50 to 100 excited negroes assembled. An attempt made to disperse the crowd proved futile. A negro, a notorious character, threw his hand behind him, as if to draw a pistol. Then a regular fusilade was opened upon the negroes by the sheriff's posse, and four of them were shot dead. The sheriff withdrew as soon as firing began, and the town was guarded and patrolled by cavalry and infantry last night.

CANADIAN NEWS.

A HORNET'S NEST.

OTTAWA, Ont. Nov. 4.—Excitement is intense here over a report that Hon. Edward Blake, leader of the opposition in the Dominion Parliament, had been arrested in Ireland for condemning, in a speech made at Glen Shairold, the evictions of certain Irish tenants, which he held were shameful in every detail. A cablegram was received later, stating that Blake had not been arrested, but he had by his utterances, raised a hornet's nest about him. Blake is considered the ablest statesman in the Dominion Parliament, and as an orator has no equal here. Recognizing his ability, Gladstone has frequently urged his entering in the British Parliament, assuring him that a constituency would be found for him; and the fact that he has now taken the stump in Ireland for Home Rule and in the interest of the British Liberal party, gives weight to the opinion expressed by his friends here that he will shortly enter the English House of Commons.

CROPS IN ONTARIO.

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—The November report of the Ontario bureau of industries states that the yield of fall wheat is 14,440,611 bushels, being 3,630,581 bushels less than last year. Spring wheat is 5,633,117 bushels, against 9,518,553 last year. Barley, 17,144,880 bushels, 2,377,448 less than last year. The oat crop is estimated at 49,848,101 bushels, against 58,655,608 last year.

THE GLOBE'S THUNDER.

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—The Globe, which has recently been protesting very vigorously against the appointment of Joseph Chamberlain as a member of the Fisheries Commission, comes out to-day in another strong editorial protesting against Chamberlain serving on the commission, as it says there is no doubt that his work on it will involve Canada in tremendous risks. The alternative of acceptance of Mr. Bayard's proposals will be a non-intercourse, commercial reprisals and probably war.

The Globe says that the case is one in which the United States has comparatively little to fear. Great Britain has to fear a large loss of trade, a large expenditure of money and the shedding of British blood, but not invasion. Canada has everything to fear, for there would be the battle ground. Their's would be the main cost, and their young men would furnish the bulk of the repast for the carrion crow. The paper then goes on to advocate unrestricted reciprocity as the perfectly honorable method of settling the dispute.

CARIBOO'S FIRST CHILD.

Interesting Historical Episode---Christening of Cameronton.

Mr. Allan R. Cameron and wife returned this morning from California, whence they went some weeks since to spend their honeymoon. To-day they are receiving congratulations from their numerous friends. The arrival of Mr. Cameron and his bride is an event of more than passing interest. Many claim to have been Cariboo's first born, but Mr. Cameron's claim thereto is indisputably the clearest. He was born in Richfield on the 25th of Oct., 1862. Mr. George Boardman's child was born some time in June 1863. The next little stranger ushered into existence there being W. W. Cunningham, which event took place in Feb. 1864. Another boy was added to the Cameron family, Edward, born May 18, 1864. These were the first native born children in Cariboo. It is reported that Judge (now Sir Matthew) Begbie held Master A. R. Cameron in his arms at the naming of Cameronton in 1863. Whilst the young member of the Cameron clan was being fondled by the judge he at the same time floated the Union Jack to the breeze. This was the first flag raised in Cariboo and the affair was one of the events of that period. The day was observed as a gala one, every one appearing in their best attire and beaming with delight. The flag is still the property of Mr. John A. Cameron. Mrs. Cameron (now Mrs. Van Volkenburgh) broke a bottle of champagne as the flag was being run up the flag-staff, the judge at the same time christening the place, which many believed would become a city of importance, but which has passed entirely away. His Honor addressed those assembled to take part in the event at some length. He complimented Mrs. Cameron and observed that she was the right person in the right place, for she had performed her duty nobly to her Queen, her husband and her country. Mr. Hy. Stevenson, Chilliwhack, was then a young man, in the bloom and vigor of his manhood, and took a very active part in the day's festivities.

The winter of 1862-3 was a very severe one. There was no communication with the outer world for several weeks. Mr. William Humphrey, now of this city, was the first to bring in an express, which had been delayed for some ninety days. This was in February, 1863. His arrival was hailed with delight and a perfect ovation tendered him.

Of the ninety stalwarts who wintered in Cariboo that year, so far as known to us, the following are the sole survivors: Mrs. Van Volkenburgh, William Halpenny, Robert Dexter, Victoria; John Pinkerton, William Hodgkinson, Cariboo; Donald Rankin, James Turley, Granite Creek; John Bryant, Lorde Creek; Robert Stevenson, Chilliwhack; John A. Cameron, Big Bend. Time has thinned out the ranks of that noble race at a wonderful rate. In a few years scarcely one will be left to tell the tale, so often already told, of the heroism the sons of Adam there displayed and the privations endured and hardships overcome by them.

POLICE COURT.

(Before Edwin Johnson, Q. C. S. M.)

A small number of law-breakers appeared before His Honor this morning. The dock was filled with Indians and Chinamen, whilst a number of white men were seated outside on the benches provided.

The first case was a charge made by Officer Robb against Pat. Cain for being drunk and disorderly. Fined $5 or one week in gaol.

Charley, an Indian, charged with being drunk and carrying a loaded revolver. Fined $5.

S. M. Guddard acknowledged being in a helpless state of intoxication. Fined $5 and costs.

Jackson, an Indian, charged with drunkenness, considered that he had a right to drink the same quantity of whiskey as a white man. Fined $5 or imprisonment for one week.

Ah Loey, a Chinaman, charged by Officer Graham with supplying liquor to Indians. Fined $50 and costs, or imprisonment for four months.

Tuckamore, an Indian, charged with being in possession of an intoxicant. Fined $25 or one month with hard labor.

Whiskey Susan, an Indian woman, charged by Officer Walker with being a vagrant. Fined $25, in default, imprisonment for two months.

Sherman Lewis, arrested by Officer Graham and charged with attempting to supply liquor to Indians. Fined $50 and costs, or imprisonment for three months.

Ah Jim, an effeminate looking Chinaman, was charged with resisting an officer in executing his duty. The Supt. asked for the prisoner's discharge.

Ah Sin and Wong You, charged by Officer Robb with being in possession of stolen property.

The Superintendent informed His Honor that Mr. P. T. Johnston's residence on Fort street was broken into last month and a number of articles stolen. Yesterday Officers Robb and Graham found a lot of stolen goods in a house occupied by the prisoners. A remand was asked for by the Superintendent and the case was adjourned until Thursday next.

William Lee, a Chinaman on remand on a charge of threatening to murder a witness for prosecution. Three Chinamen swore that Wm. Lee said he would kill the witness. The prisoner was committed for trial on two charges, one of stealing $8 and the above mentioned charge of threatening to kill a Chinese witness.

Visited British Columbia.

Mr. Fred. Hamilton, who has attained considerable notoriety in connection with the disappearance of Mrs. Middleton from Ottawa lately, and whose name has been conspicuously mentioned in the newspapers during the last couple of weeks, returned to Montreal and registered at the St. Lawrence hall. Mr. Hamilton is in excellent health and spirits. To a Gazette reporter he stated that the stories of his connection with Mrs. Middleton, of Ottawa, were all lies. "I have returned from British Columbia, where I have been on business," said Mr. Hamilton, "and I intend to seek redress from the newspapers. I will put the matter in the hands of my lawyers to-morrow morning."

HOPE NEWS.

Pack Trains---Cattle---Public School ---Temperance, &c.

The summer zephers have ceased to blows,
And autumn leaves begun to fall.
The first white flake of early snow
Doth intimate to one and all,
That winter soon will soon appear,
And close us in to fireside cheer.

As Hope has not spoken through your popular columns for some time, nor has she been silent for want of interesting matter, consequently we trust her voice now will be no less welcome than formerly to the many eager readers of the Victoria TIMES.

For the last three or four months pack-trains from Granite Creek and Rock Creek mines have enlivened the town, keeping up a constant bustle and brisk business in the line of feed stables, grain produce, dry goods, groceries and fruit stores to such an extent that fresh supplies have to be secured. One thousand or more head of mountain fed cattle under the skilled supervision of Cawston & Ellis, have passed through the corral for shipment by steamer W. Irving to the cities down the river.

A prospect in the near future of the opening up of the Stevenson quartz ledge and the silver mines adjacent to Hope is causing the business pulse to throb with expectation, and the citizens to enter into the spirit of the following stanza:

Hope waits with joyous note to sing,
The mines will open in the spring,
Thus giving work to willing hands
And using produce of the lands,
And circulating wealth among
The poor, the rich, the weak, the strong;
Thus mountain rock by honest toil
Competes with tilling of the soil.

The public school is increasing in attendance; scholars coming from a distance, board, rendering it positively necessary to enlarge the schoolroom, or endanger the health of both teacher and pupils. The Sabbath school is also thriving, the children manifesting deep interest and making rapid progress in Biblical knowledge and sacred song, considering their size and age. Last Sabbath Rev. Small held morning service in the Episcopalian Church, also a short afternoon service for the children who walked up from the school house Sabbath school. In the evening the regular Methodist service was held in the school house, attended by both whites and Indians. The subject of discourse being, "God's Ability to Keep That Which is Committed to Him." (II Tim. 1st and 12th). The Loyal Legion meets every Friday.

The W. C. T. U. held its monthly meeting last Thursday. A new member was added to the number. After the opening exercises by the president and the reading of the well prepared minutes of the pioneers' meeting by the secretary, the organizer gave a synopsis of her visit to Chilliwhack Provincial Convention, New Westminster, Vancouver, and the North Arm, having organized two unions during her absence, and taken a number of orders for an excellent book entitled "Land, Labor and Liquor," and a large weekly paper called Canada Citizen, by F. S. Spence, Toronto, all of which is educating prohibition sentiment, and laying a good foundation for practical activity.

The liquor foe is mighty in this province, and much work must be undertaken and accomplished before we can successfully cope with an enemy so deeply entrenched. Two at least of the Dominion laws have been violated with impunity, that of selling without a license and selling to Indians. Whenever a license is granted a police should be appointed by government to keep law and order, otherwise the community is mercilessly unprotected. The cause of right and home protection has lost an able champion by the death of Hon. J. B. Finch, of Nebraska. May his mantle fall on one equal in ability, benign in spirit, and resolute in purpose, that the oft repeated words may be verified: "God removes his workmen but carries on his work."

Pardon, Mr. Editor, the length of this article. The only apology is this, "When Hope speaks she has much to say."

HOPEAN.

CHINAMEN AND THE COLONIST.

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

DEAR SIR—Can you inform Subscriber why it is that the Colonist makes such a hue and cry about Chinamen leaving this province and going over to the U. S. They certainly are not anxious to build a fence around this country to keep them from leaving, I say the more goes the more work and more pay for the white laborer, and the men who carry them over think more of the country and are greater benefactors than the whole Colonist staff. SUBSCRIBER.

"THE OPPOSITION GONE TO SMASH."

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—This is the patriotic song of the Colonist, the work being father of the idea, and is conclusive evidence that the Colonist boss, the saintly David, does not want any opposition in the local legislature, being naturally a tyrant of the worst type, and like the majority of tyrants a coward. He fears an honest opposition, and particularly one of ability, hence his extreme dislike to Mr. Thomas Humphreys. He knows well if Mr. Humphreys is returned for Comox that he will be a lion in his path, that he will expose his political trickery, that his schemes of self-aggrandisement will be laid bare to the public view. His chances for haim will be gone; no more windfalls in Cariboo quartz or artificial stone will fall to his lot. His portly and pompous form can no more swell or shine with his lumbering and ill-begotten eloquence. The ring of Humphreys' voice will make him shrivel and wilt like a feather in a furnace. These are some of the reasons why the literary blood-hounds, or "carrion bugs," as Robertson calls them, of the Colonist, are let loose and deluge often deluge of the vilest, lowest and most contemptible abuse is hurled at Mr. Humphreys. But the electors of Comox can rest assured that the virulent abuse of the Colonist bugs, from the great bug O'Higgins down to the slim bug O'Brien, is the greatest reason possible that they should elect Mr. Humphreys to represent them in the loyal opposition, an opposition that will soon be the government, unless O'Higgins joins it. If he should that would smash it quicker than Vesuvius would scorch a feather.

POSSUM.

"It's all humbug to talk to me of the benefits of advertising," said the sour-looking man; "I spent $175 last year in advertising and I was closed out by the sheriff in January. The money was wasted, sir, every cent of it. Advertising is no good."

"What papers did you advertise in?" inquired a sympathizing bystander.

"What papers? Why, I didn't use any papers. I had my advertisements painted on fence boards."

HUMPHREYS-DINGWALL.

The representative for Comox in the last house, Mr. W. H. DINGWALL, has declared himself a candidate for that constituency, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. A. M. SEARMOUR. From our knowledge of the constituency, and judging by the result of the last contest in Comox, Mr. DINGWALL, in coming to this determination, has been influenced by an inordinate ambition to regain a position which he lost solely because of his unfitness and general uselessness as a representative. During his term in the house, he was a subservient follower of the SMITHE government, always voting, as he said himself, "with the majority," regardless of the effect on his constituency or on the province. He now comes forward pledged to "support the present government," hoping no doubt that residence in the constituency will blind the people to his eminent incapacity to serve them as a legislator. Assuming the role of the ward politician he promises a wharf to one section of the constituency, a bridge to another, and railway and telegraph communication to every portion of the district. Affairs of provincial importance are, of course, entirely ignored, probably for the very good reason that Mr. DINGWALL is too little acquainted with them to express an intelligent opinion. Since Mr. HUMPHREYS has entered the field we have heard a great deal from the Colonist about non-resident candidates, and the urgent necessity that exists for Comox to select a local representative. As to the propriety of having resident representatives, when their qualifications are measurably equal to those of non-resident candidates, there is no divergence of opinion between our contemporary and ourselves. Esquimalt for instance, did an unwise act when it elected a non-resident in place of Mr. HANS HELGESEN, ex-M.P.P., one of the clearest headed and most honorable men who occupied a seat in the late legislature. Our contemporary, however, preaches a different doctrine for Comox, to that which he practises in Esquimalt. Hon. A. E. B. DAVIE and Hon. JOHN ROBSON do not reside in the districts they represent; but the Colonist was never heard to enter a protest their absenteeism, and, so far as we can remember, did not object to their election during the canvass on account of non-residence. Our esteemed friend, however, is nothing, if not inconsistent. A rule applicable to Mr. D. HIGGINS is not, according to his ideas, applicable to Hon. T. B. HUMPHREYS, or, to use a common saying, what is sauce for the Esquimalt goose is not sauce for the Comox gander. No honest and independent elector, after having fully weighed the respective candidates, and considered their ability to serve the district, will hesitate about how he should vote. The Colonist and the ring of which it is the paid organ, for personal reasons, do not want Mr. HUMPHREYS in the House, and about the only argument they think will have weight in keeping him out is the non-residence fad. The good people of Comox are quite capable of deciding this matter for themselves, without dictation from the Government press. They know what their interests are, and they have shown before that they are possessed of a sturdy independence of Government tyranny. Their next verdict will be still more emphatic, and as it is our wish that Mr. HUMPHREYS' victory should be an overwhelming one, we hope the rumor that Hon. Mr. DUNSMUIR is going into the constituency on a missionary tour is true. The effect will be quite as satisfactory as it was in the Gordon-Pianta struggle. The people of Comox know all about the men who grabbed their lands with giving them a quid pro quo.

Sanford Fleming has received a letter from the Japanese Minister, at London, stating that the twenty-four hour system will be adopted throughout Japan, on January 1st, next.

Thomas White has purchased the Gazette building from the Allan estate for $115,000. It is quite possible it may yet be needed by the Government.

There is some discussion in the press of the failure to sign the contract for the completion of the Red River Valley Railway. Opinion is prematurely expressed in some quarters that the contest is now virtually ended.

The Globe's cable says: A rumor is current and is mentioned in the provincial press, that Sir John Laville Lumby will be succeeded in the British Embassy at Rome by Lord Lansdowne, and that the latter's successor will be Lord Stanley of Preston. The latter appointment is possible, though nothing has been heard pointing to its probability.

FISHERY COMMISSION.

What the British Minister at Washington Says.

A Senator on the Situation---Judicious Diplomacy.

A Washington dispatch of a late date states that Mr. Joseph Chamberlain notified Sir Lionel Sackville West of his intended departure from Britain. Sir Lionel is a diplomat. He says that it "amuses him to hear and read of the opposition to Chamberlain." Mr. West is not so well pleased over the outlook as he would appear to be. On the contrary he is very much dissatisfied with Chamberlain's appointment. No man knows better than the British Minister that there are not ten Senators among the 76 in the United States Senate who would dare to vote for any measure which may be opposed by any considerable number of Irish American citizens. Mr. West also realizes fully the very unpleasant "hole" into which he is thrust by the appointment of Chamberlain upon the same commission with himself. But Mr. West is too well versed in diplomatic etiquette to suggest to his government that the gentleman who has been selected as his superior on the commission is unfit for the place.

THE SITUATION IS UNFORTUNATE,

to put it mildly. In the first place Congress set the seal of its disapproval upon the idea of a commission so emphatically last winter that there can be no possible hope of the approval of any measure in the House if the terms of the forthcoming convention are such as to require the sanction of that branch of Congress. Even if it does not affect the revenues, and can therefore go into effect with the approval of the Senate alone, it is destined to meet with but poor support in that body. One of the best-posted men in the Upper House said to-day: "I am exceedingly sorry to learn that the President has decided not to interfere in the appointment of the British Commissioners. The sentiment of more than half the Senate is on the Irish question, and the others are generally inclined in a lesser degree to take the same views. Every Irish society in the United States will in all probability oppose any measure in which Chamberlain has a hand. Coupled with this state of affairs the fact that the Senate is opposed to the settlement of differences through a joint commission, and it will readily be seen that any treaty which may be negotiated will have a very slim chance of ratification. I have no idea that anything can be accomplished by this commission as it is at present constituted." Messrs. Angell and Putnam, the American members of the commission, have returned to Washington, and are in frequent consultation with Secretary Bayard regarding the approaching negotiations. The English commissioners are expected here about the end of the first week in November. Instructions will be given to the U. S. Customs offices to extend to them the courtesies usually accorded visiting diplomats in the matter of free admission of personal effects, etc. It is the present intention to have the negotiators meet in the Department building, and the large room near the Secretary's office, known as the diplomatic reception room will be set apart for their consultations.

INTERIOR NEWS.

Obituary--A Gold Strike--Railway Accident---Personal.

(From the Sentinel.)

It is with regret that we chronicle the death of the late P. J. Ferguson, who died at Fairview ranch, on Sunday last. The deceased was a young man of sterling qualities and was esteemed by all who knew him. He was a son of Collin Ferguson, of Picton, N. S., and has been for some time a resident of British Columbia. Previously he was engaged as engineer on the I. C. Railway, between Picton and Moncton. He was buried in Kamloops cemetery on Monday, Rev. Messrs. Chisholm and Murray conducting the funeral services.

George Church, a Lillooet half-breed, was brought before Indian Agent J. W. McKay, charged by constable Smith with selling liquor to Alex. McLean and the Indian Philip on Saturday last. He was sentenced to six months hard labor at the New Westminster prison.

Mr. Wm. Lane, who returned from Maiden Creek this week, reports that Messrs. John McLennan and Andrew Hunter, who went up the North Thompson River about six weeks ago on a prospecting expedition, have struck gold on Maiden Creek, about thirty miles northwest from here,—up the North Thompson about 30 miles and then west. Mr. Lane and Messrs. Myers and Bobbins have taken up claims on the creek. Mr. Lane is confident that good pay will be found there in the spring. Messrs. McLennan and Hunter, have struck pay ore, and are making from $4 to $5 per day. They will work on the creek all winter.

Mr. Daniel Adams, who has the contract for building the bridge across the South Thompson river, is busily engaged in putting timbers in shape for the structure. It will be erected where the upper ferry is now run.

Only one patient was received at the hospital this week—Malcolm McLaren, who received injuries by the over-turning of the engine at the smash-up near Shuswap on Saturday.

On Saturday forenoon, a westbound freight train ran into a number of cattle about four miles west of Shuswap. The engine was thrown on one side of the track and rolled down the embankment, while the tender rolled over on the other side. Driver McEwan escaped uninjured, but the fireman, Malcolm McLaren, was badly shaken up and received severe injuries to his back. He was brought to town, and placed in the hospital for treatment. The engine and tender were badly smashed, and a box car was completely demolished. The cattle which caused the smash up had come on to the railway over a high and almost perpendicular bluff, and did not go on to the track till the train was within a short distance of them. Only one animal was killed.

Mountain fever has become very prevalent at Ashcroft. Not a week passes that one or more patients do not start for Kamloops for medical service or hospital accommodation.

The hotel formerly occupied by Mr. R. J. Nesbitt, Ashcroft, is rented to James Newland, formerly of the Lake View House, Savona.

let that cold of yours run on. You think it is a light thing. But it may run into catarrh. Or into pneumonia. Or consumption.

Catarrh is disgusting. Pneumonia is dangerous. Consumption is death itself.

The breathing apparatus must be kept healthy and clear of all obstructions and offensive matter. Otherwise there is trouble ahead.

All the diseases of these parts, head, nose, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs, can be delightfully and entirely cured by the use of Boschee's German Syrup. If you don't know this already, thousands and thousands of people can tell you. They have been cured by it, and "know how it is themselves." Bottle only 75 cents. Ask any druggist.

Canadian vs. English Cheese.

The question is frequently asked, is Canadian cheese as good as the English article? The average Englishman will ask, what can beat Cheddar or Stilton cheese? And yet, strange to observe, Canadian cheese, made as they make cheese in Cheddar, sells for a penny a pound more in England than the native article. At least so says U. S. Minister Lathrop in his report to the American Government. This is certainly flattering to Canadians, for the cheese made in the Cheddar valley, Somersetshire, was considered the best of all English cheese. No wonder the Canadian export trade in cheese increases every year, while that of the United States diminishes, for Mr. Lathrop explains the cause. As to Stilton cheese, it is a fact well known to many that Mr. M. K. Parsons, of Guelph, sends to Britain large quantities yearly of this favorite article, where it is passed off as being of native manufacture, and frequently imported into Canada as the original genuine Stilton. Such, however, is the peculiarity of trade.

Successfully Applied.

The successful application of the air-brake to freight trains is announced. As nearly all freight train accidents occur from the difficulty of bringing heavy freight trains to a stand, the importance of the announcement will be seen. A freight train running 22 miles an hour was stopped within 184 feet by the air-brake. A plan has also been found of automatically stopping the parts of trains that have broken in two. A great reduction in the expenses of railway companies will follow.

Important.

The goods damaged by water in consequence of the fire in the Arcade building will be sold at private sale commencing on Tuesday at Spencer's Arcade. Brussels Carpets, Tapestry Carpet, Felt and Hemp Carpet, Rope Matting, Kidderminster and Three-ply Carpets, Hearthrugs, Mats.

Men's and Boys' Hats, Caps, Ties, Gloves, Shirts, Socks, Underwear; also the goods damaged by the smoke. All goods will be marked in plain figures and sold for cash only.

The Wimbledon Team of '88.

Col. Bacon, Secretary of the Dominion Rifle Association, has received replies from sixteen of the first riflemen of the Governor-General's Sixty, intimating their intention of going to Wimbledon next year. As soon as twenty of the highest have been heard from Martini rifles and ammunition will be issued.

Sore Eyes

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely

Cured

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever. —Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until with a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these purposes, with wonderful results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

By Taking

three bottles of this medicine I have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

How the Men of the West Organized for Victory.

STRIKING FIRST BLOWS.

An Impartial Story of One of the Decisive Battles of the War.

"THE HORNET'S NEST."

Only a part of the story of the attack on Prentiss has been told. After retreating through his camps in the morning, the new position he occupied was the strongest of the day. His left was the southern end of a ravine; thence his right extended along an old washed out road running nearly to the Corinth road. On the right of the latter was placed Hickenlooper's battery. Gen. Grant visited the spot, approved the position and directed Prentiss to "Hold it at all hazards". Right royally was the command obeyed. Marching to his support, Gen. W. H. L. Wallace, joined Col. Tuttle with the Second, Seventh, Twelfth and Fourteenth Iowa regiments on his right, and Col. Sweeney with the Eighth Iowa, Seventh, Fiftieth, Fifty-second, Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth Illinois regiments on the right of Col. Tuttle. Sweeney's right reached the edge of a wide, deep ravine filled with impenetrable thickets extending far to his rear and running into the ravine of Brier creek. Such was the place that became famous among the Confederates as "The Hornet's Nest."

GEN. A. S. JOHNSTON.

The first assault made was by Gladden's brigade; and now begin a series of some of the most desperate engagements of the battle. Gen. Gladden having been mortally wounded in the charge of the early morning, the command devolved on Col. Adams. The line is barely formed at 10 o'clock, when the southern men are seen confidently advancing through the dense thickets against the unseen foe. They are permitted to come well within range, when suddenly there flashes from 3,000 rifles a blaze of fire. The deep notes of Hickenlooper's guns mingle with the treble of the small arms that echoes through the forest, and the gray canopy of smoke that rests above the scene tells where death is being scattered on every side. The well known "rebel yell" rings out as the column presses forward and the ground is dotted with the wounded and dead. But the leaden storm beats in their faces with a fierceness that nothing human can withstand, and the crippled brigade recoils to the cover of the woods. Gen. A. P. Stewart's command of Polk's corps is now sent forward, and once, twice, thrice, it repeats the grand effort to carry the position, but with no better success than before. Gen. Gibson's brigade of Bragg's corps surges in and takes its place. Again that hurricane of lead. The angry balls fly in showers and seem to bear a death warrant in every howling screech. An enfilading fire from the battery cuts down the men by ranks, like swaths of grass under the mower's scythe, and yet others continue to step into the path of death with cheerful alacrity, it seems, and fall with a battle cry upon their lips. Three times has Gibson charged, and three times been repulsed. Gen. Bragg now impatiently directs one of his staff, Col. Lockett, his chief engineer, to ride forward to a central regiment that has been driven back, and carry its colors to the front. "The flag must not go back again," he said. The officer, obeying the order, dashes through the line of battle, seizes the colors from the color bearer, and exclaims: "Gen. Bragg says these colors must not go to the rear." While he is talking the color sergeant is shot down. An officer approaches with a bullet hole in each cheek, the blood streaming from his mouth, and asks: "What are you doing with my colors, sir?" "I'm obeying Gen. Bragg's orders to hold them where they are," the brave fellow replies. "If any man carries these colors but the color bearer, I am the man. Tell Gen. Bragg that I will see that these colors are in the right place. But he must attack this position in flank; we can never carry it alone from the front." The officer who spoke commanded the Fourth Louisiana, and instantly riding back to Gen. Bragg to emphasize the previous request made for artillery by Gen. Gibson, he was met with the stern answer: "Col. Allen, I want no faltering now!" Stung to the quick, he returned to his regiment, and once more there was a wild, hurrying wave of men rolling up that fatal slope only to be dashed to death. It was splendid murder! Col. Allen afterward became Governor Allen, of Louisiana. Such were the kind of men whom Prentiss and Wallace fought on that eventful day from 9 in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon before one was captured and the other killed!

Finding that the position could not be carried by direct assault, Bragg now determined on a combined flank movement. First, all the guns within reach were brought up and concentrated on the one little battery, standing at the salient point where Prentiss and Wallace joined, that had reaped such a harvest among the lines of the enemy. Before this terrible fire, Hickenlooper was compelled to withdraw. By 4:30 o'clock fighting in front of Sherman and McClernand having ceased, Gens. Cheatham, Trabue, Johnson and Russell, seeing that Wallace could not be approached across the dense thicket filling the great ravine which protected his right, felt their way to the plateau in his rear, where they met the combined forces under Bragg in front of Hurlbut's camp. Moving thus against the remnants of the two divisions, they inclosed them almost in a circle; a struggle ensued, but further resistance was useless, and the brave Wallace was mortally wounded. The Second and Seventh Iowa, led by Col. Tuttle, now cut their way out and reached Pittsburg Landing, but Prentiss, true to his orders from Gen. Grant, firmly remained at his post, and "having lost everything but honor, surrendered his little band. It comprised 2,200 men. And so ended the famous fight in 'the hornet's nest.'"

LAST BLOWS.

It will be remembered that the extreme left of the national line was protected by Sherman's Second brigade, under Col. Stuart. Early in the day a sharp engagement occurred without definite results, but Hurlbut being present as a support, and apparently holding that portion of the left with a good deal of tenacity, Gen. Johnston ordered another attack upon the position for the purpose of breaking down the only barrier that remained in that part of the field between the Confederate line and the landing. The movement was not successful and the assault was repeated. One of the Tennessee regiments becoming demoralized by the desperate resistance encountered, refused to again advance, and at this juncture the commander in chief, accompanied by Gen. Hurlbut, Gen. Breckinridge and Governor Harris, of Tennessee, rode to their front and pressed to lead them himself. The hitherto reluctant soldiers, now roused to enthusiasm by such a distinguished leadership, charged and carried the slope. But it was at a terrible cost to the Confederates. After he had passed through the ordeal of the charge unhurt, a chance shot struck Gen. Johnston in the leg, severing an important artery. His clothes were pierced by missiles, the sole of his boot had been torn by a bullet and his horse shot in four places, but he himself did not know that he had received a severe wound until Governor Harris, seeing him reeling in his saddle, rode up and asked if he was hurt. "Yes, yes the worst, and I fear mortally." The dying general was removed from his horse, and there upon the field he lost so nearly won his spirit passed away. This was about 2:30 o'clock. Gen. Bragg assuming the command, renewed assaults were now made on the Federal left, the position was finally turned and in a couple of hours more the weary remnants of the Federal army were under the shelter of the gunboats and a line of thirty pieces of artillery that had been hastily gathered by Col. Webster, of Gen. Grant's staff, and now constituted, with its slight infantry support, the only hope of the army.

While the Confederates under Chalmers, Jackson and others, who had closed in around the landing, were preparing to assault this last position, Beauregard was at his headquarters near Shiloh meeting those with the rear of his army in a state of demoralization, thousands of rapacious soldiers being engaged in loading themselves down with the spoils of the Federal camps. The men at the front were likewise reduced to thin lines, and indisposed to advance in the face of the shells from the gunboats that were bursting in every direction. Gen. Bragg himself admitted that the troops "had done all that they would do and had better be withdrawn," and Gen. Chalmers, who was at the landing preparing to attack the reserve artillery and its support, likewise confessed that "the men were too much exhausted to storm the batteries on the hill." Under these circumstances, just before sunset, orders were issued to cease hostilities, collect the scattered forces and be ready to meet the expected onset of Lew Wallace's fresh division and Buell's forces at daylight. Whether this was another "lost opportunity" will doubtless always remain a subject of debate in military circles.

THE END OF THE FIRST DAY.

The scene around Pittsburg Landing at this hour is indescribable. Even when Gen. Grant arrived at 10 o'clock in the morning, the panic stricken stragglers might have been counted by thousands. Gen. Buell, who was also an eye witness, says, "the mouth of Snake creek was full of them swimming across. The number at nightfall would not have fallen short of 15,000, including those who had passed down the river and the demoralized fragments about the camps on the plateau. Men mounted and on foot, and wagons with their teams, all struggling to force their way to the river, were mixed up in apparently inextricable confusion." Gen. Ammen's brigade of Nelson's division arriving about six o'clock, were promptly deployed into line to meet any threatened attack, but the enemy fell back, the exhausted soldiers sought their bivouac, and the bloody work of Sunday was finished.

NIGHT.

The day closed upon a scene that has had no parallel on the western continent. With the gathering shades of night came silence, and the two armies, like torn and bloody gladiators, but each alert, rested from their struggle. Grant's forces had retired to the camps of Gens. W. H. L. Wallace and Hurlbut, while the equally scattered troops of Beauregard bivouacked in the camps of Sherman, McClernand and Prentiss. Soon after dark the rain descended in torrents, and all through the dreary hours the moans of the wounded mingled with the pitiless beating of the storm and the sullen thunder from the gunboats, which every fifteen minutes sent a shell far inland to explode and banish sleep. To Gen. Grant, however, all this was a golden opportunity. "To-morrow," he said, to a group of officers gathered around him at the landing, "they will be exhausted, and we will go at them with fresh men," and when after midnight he slept on the ground, with his head on the stump of a tree for a pillow, it was to dream of the coming victory. Nelson's division was already in sight and Crittenden and McCook were near at hand, while Gen. Lew Wallace, with his fresh division, was present to redeem the error of the day.

In this connection, it will be remembered that Gen. Wallace was left to defend the immense stores of the army at Crump's Landing and to resist any feint of the enemy that might be made at that point. About 11 o'clock in the morning Grant had sent him a verbal order to move his division and form on Sherman's right, but it was issued before the Federals were driven back from their lines. Fortunately, before he reached the rear of the Confederates, he was overtaken while on his way by an aide with orders to countermarch. But instead of six miles, his route was increased to ten, and when he reached the field it was after sunset.

According to Gen. Buell, 7,000 men at the utmost of the Army of Tennessee, besides Lew Wallace's 5,000, were ready to take part in the struggle which was to be renewed in the morning. Seven thousand had been killed or wounded, 3,000 were prisoners, about thirty pieces of artillery were in the hands of the enemy, and at least 15,000 were absent from the ranks and hopelessly demoralized. During the evening Gens. Grant and Buell met at Sherman's headquarters, and it was there arranged that the attack should be begun at daylight. Gen. Lew Wallace occupied the right of line, resting on Snake creek; Sherman, McClernand and Hurlbut, with the remnants of Wallace's and Prentiss' men, were posted next from right to left, while McCook, Crittenden and Nelson, of Buell's army, in the order named, constituted the left wing. The skirmishing began early, the advanced outposts of Nelson being the first to strike those of the enemy. The Confederate right consisted of Hardee's corps, with Chalmers and Jackson's brigades of Bragg's corps. Gen. Bragg was on the left with the remainder of his command, and Clarke's division of Polk's corps and Trabue's Kentucky brigade. Gen. Breckinridge was on the left of Hardee, and Gen. Polk fell into line between Bragg and Breckinridge. From the beginning of the contest the fighting was severe at every point. Several times the ground was lost and won, batteries were taken and retaken, and Federals and Confederates lay side by side in the dense woods and muddy fields through which they had struggled for the possession of the camps. It was evident long before noon, however, that the enemy was being pushed steadily back and the ground conquered by them the day before, stubbornly surrendered. The musketry at times surpassed in its volume and execution anything of the kind yet known in the war; tents were riddled with bullet holes; one tree not eighteen inches in diameter was struck by ninety balls not ten feet from the ground, and mangled horses, mutilated men, living and dead, broken gun carriages and all the nameless debris of a battlefield were spread around in appalling confusion.

Seeing his troops beginning to lag, and exhausted regiments dropping out of line, Beauregard between 2 and 3 o'clock sent word to his extreme right to retreat in alternate lines. This movement was under the command of Breckinridge, and it is conceded was conducted with steadiness and with no attempt to follow. Indeed Gen. Grant, in his report to Halleck, says that his force was "too much fatigued from two days' hard fighting and exposure in the open air to a drenching rain in the intervening night to pursue immediately." Breckinridge that night camped about a mile and a half from the battlefield, and the next day moved three miles further to the rear. The other commands with their fragments marched back to their encampments around Corinth.

In the "Medical and Surgical History of the War," the loss in killed, wounded and missing on the Federal side during the two days' fighting is fixed at 13,573. According to Beauregard, the aggregate of Confederate loss was 10,699. And so ended the battle of Shiloh. The flag of the Union floated once more along the lines from which it had been driven, and the first foot prints were made in that wonderful campaign which, beginning at Donelson, took definite shape at Corinth and Memphis, recovered the Mississippi from Vicksburg to New Orleans, crystallized in "The March to the Sea," and culminated at Appomattox Court House.

The Mexico's Cargo.

The cargo brought up by the Mexico to-day was the largest which has reached this part for some time, the whole being 1229 tons, distributed as follows: For Victoria there were 82 tons, Port Townsend, 130, Seattle, 297, Tacoma 330 and Vancouver for eastern points, 390 tons. Several hundred tons for Victoria had to be left behind by the Mexico which will reach here by the steam barkentine Jesse Thompson, specially chartered for this trip by the Pacific Coast Steamship Co. In addition to the Victoria freight, she carries considerable for eastern points to hence from Vancouver via the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Surprise Party.

A surprise party was held last Friday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Mesher, 2nd street, Work Estate. About 30 were present, and spent a very agreeable evening. The invading party provided music to which the light fantastic was tripped in a spirited manner till long after midnight. Refreshments were likewise provided in abundance and to spare, even to several full baskets. An exceedingly pleasant evening was spent.

Catarrah, Catarrhal Deafness and Hay Fever.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever is cured in from one to three simple applications made at home. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free on receipt of stamp, by A. H. Dixon & Son, 305 King street West, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Standard.

What Am I To Do.

The symptoms of Biliousness are unhappily too well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A Bilious man is seldom a breakfast eater. Too frequently, alas, he has an excellent appetite for liquids but none for solids of a morning. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time; if it is not white and furred, it is rough, at all events.

The digestive system is wholly out of order and Diarrhœa or Constipation may be a symptom or the two may alternate. There are often Hemorrhoids or even loss of blood. There may be giddiness and often headache and acidity or flatulence and tenderness in the pit of the stomach. To correct all this if not effect a cure try Green's August Flower, it costs but a trifle and thousands attest its efficacy.

Archbishop Seghers' Grave.

A letter from Rev. Father Aloysius Robat S. J. is published in the last issue of the Portland Catholic Sentinel. It is dated Anelk, on the Yukon, Alaska. The following is an extract: "We had expected that either the Dora or the St. Paul would take the body of the Archbishop to San Francisco, but neither of the captains would consent to do it. Then I was confident that Captain Healy, of the revenue cutter, which was expected every day, would surely do it. But even this captain, although most willing to do most anything he possibly could, said it was not in his power to take the body without a permit from the United States Government. Then the only way left me was to bury temporarily the remains of the Archbishop at St. Michael's. Wherefore, as soon as I received the negative answer from Captain Healy, I thought about the burial. I chose a corner of the Russian graveyard, about two hundred yards from the post. After the grave had been dug six white men who happened to be there carried the coffin to the graveyard. Among those who followed the solemn procession were two Presbyterian ministers. Once at the grave, I recited the prayers for the dead over the remains of the Archbishop, blessed the grave, and then retired. Mr. Romanoff made, at my request, a large cross, to be put over the grave. This will be surrounded by a fence, and an inscription will be made in Latin containing his Lordship's name, titles, etc."

The Canadian Abroad.

At the Driard are registered Mr. D. Freeman, Miss Freeman and Miss Grace Freeman, of Bellona, Southern California. They have returned from a brief visit to the mainland. It is reported that Mr. Freeman has made a considerable investment in Vancouver. He is one of the oldest and richest residents of Southern California. He left his native county, Norfolk, Ont., in the early fifties. Was a son of the late Squire Freeman, a well-known citizen of "glorious old Norfolk" and is a brother to Mr. John B. Freeman, M.P.P., for South Norfolk. In his adopted country he amassed an immense fortune. He was owner of the great Centinela ranch near Bellona. Lately he made a donation of $600,000 to the University of Southern California as an endowment and building fund for a school of applied sciences, upon the condition that it be located and maintained at the new town of Inglewood, on the Centinela ranch. One hundred thousand dollars of the funds is to be used in the erection of buildings upon the campus donated by the Centinela Inglewood Land Company, and $500,000 as an endowment fund. Not long since he sold a portion of one of his ranches near Los Angeles for a million and a half. Two years ago Mr. Freeman resided in Toronto for a few months in the residence formerly occupied by the late Hon. Geo. Brown, his intention being to educate his children there. Owing, however, to illness caused by the severity of the winter he was obliged to return to his adopted country.

Shipping Intelligence.

Movements of People We Know and have Read of.

Mr. J. W. Scott, a well-known typo of Winnipeg, is en route to this coast.

Mr. G. Ford, manager of the Dominion Express Company, is in the city.

Mr. Gideon Robertson returned on Saturday night from the mainland.

Mr. W. R. Higgins of the Colonist, is back from a brief trip to the mainland.

Capt. Arnold of the steamship Parthia, is in the city.

Sir Richard Musgrave has returned to the city from a sojourn on the mainland.

Mr. Marcus Wolfe, of Nanaimo, paid Victoria a flying visit this morning and left for the Sound.

Mr. W. C. Caldwell, ex-M. P. P. for North Lanark, Ont., is at the Driard on his way back from a trip to California.

Mr. Walter Gladwin, of Ashcroft, is at present in Kamloops in a critical state of health.

Major Dupont was amongst the arrivals from the mainland on Sunday night.

Mr. A. Kennedy, for many years a resident of Cedar District and of late years of Nanaimo, has left on a trip to his native heath near Antrim, Ireland.

Mr. Archie McDonald, of Lillooet, who went back to Glengary, Ont., over a year ago, has returned to British Columbia. He is accompanied by Mrs. McDonald.

Mr. Harry Young, traveling passenger agent of the O. R. & N. Co., the Oregon Short Line and the Union Pacific Railway Companies, is in the city.

Mayor Howland of Toronto, announces that he will not be a candidate for the mayoralty next year, owing to the pressure of business affairs.

Dr. W. B. Lindsay of Strathroy, Ont., is on his way to Sitka in this province. He will visit California before settling down in British Columbia.

Mr. S. T. Greenshields, a leading wholesale merchant from Montreal, who lately opened a branch agency in Vancouver, is in this city, and a guest at the Driard.

Mr. Edward White, of Messrs. Brown & White, of Vancouver, is in the city. He reports business as in every way encouraging and fully up to their expectations.

Mr. Wm. Saul, a pioneer in this country, who recently paid a visit to Western Ontario, has returned to Clinton. He says there is no place like British Columbia.

Mr. C. O. Brockway, C. P. R. agent at Ashcroft, has resigned, and with his mother, will leave shortly for Washington Territory. Mr. C. E. Carey, recently from Kansas City, will take charge of the station henceforth.

Mr. John Pollard, of Clinton, a resident of British Columbia for a quarter of a century, and who went to England some time ago, has returned, bringing with him a wife to share his fortune in this glorious country.

Mr. Robert Riddly, who accompanied Mr. Joseph Spratt to California as nurse, returned to the city by the Mexico this morning quite ill. He had to be helped off the ship by friends. He is using crutches. Mr. Spratt is improving.

J. G. Geddes has returned from his trip to the Sound in connection with the Commissariat depart. of the C. P. N. Co.'s steamer the Premier on the Sound. "Jumbo" apears to have enjoyed the trip with his master, to whom he is greatly attached.

Mr. G. N. C. Drexel, son of millionaire Drexel, of Philadelphia, is on his way round the world, and will travel by way of Victoria, Yokohama and Suez, and will be about a year covering the ground, stopping off wherever anything is to be seen, and changing his route as circumstances determine.

Mr. Henry J. Nolan, chief clerk in the Rossin House, Toronto, accompanied by his wife, registered at the Driard this morning. Mr. Nolan paid a visit to Southern California, and is now on his way back to the Queen City of Ontario. Both are greatly benefited by the trip, which is one Mr. Nolan will have pleasure in recommending as one which should be taken by everyone.

Mr. Boyd Caldwell and Miss Caldwell, of Lanark, Ont., are guests at the Driard. They are en route home via the Canadian Pacific. They extended their visit to California. Mr. Boyd played a very important part in the great stream suit, which finally resulted in the act now known as the Ontario Streams Bill, which was disallowed by the Dominion government, but finally ratified by the Privy Council. Mr. Caldwell and his party are greatly delighted with their trip and all they have seen on this coast.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—As an observer and reader I have come across considerable correspondence emanating from Mr. Muir; also some anonymous letters which are said to be his. However, it seems they have had considerable prominence, not only through your paper but all the other dailies in the city. I believe, also, that he (Muir) has had the audacity to place all these on the blackboard of the High School for the purpose of drawing the attention of the scholars who were under his charge to his own productions. I am sure there can be no apology for such conduct. The man who would dare to do such things before the pupils of the school should not have been allowed to teach, nor should such conduct have been tolerated for a moment by the trustees. The conduct of such a teacher, and such ungentlemanly acts, would, I am sure, not elevate the minds of his pupils in a moral sense; nor is it an example that the parents of the pupils would wish them to follow. Do the staff of teachers approve of such conduct? It appears they do, as by the address they have presented to Mr. Muir he is everything that is good. If such are the opinions of the teachers of our schools it is time the trustees should look into matters and have such immorality and insubordination put a stop to. It seems to me strange that the present staff of teachers approve of the past conduct of Mr. Muir, and the stand he has taken in attacking the trustees in such a cowardly manner as he has done. Or would the scholars have made themselves so conspicuous if it had not been at the instances of some of the teachers? I can hardly believe that such demonstrations of approval were done with the object of upholding Mr. Muir in his ridiculous conduct toward the trustees, or in any way to clear up the character of the late discharged teacher of the high school. But if it were done with the object of sustaining the late teacher, in his ungentlemanly conduct, it is the duty of the trustees to investigate the matter and place their position in a proper light before the public. By what I have learned from the scholars, and what has appeared in the newspapers, I have come to the conclusion that the trustees should have made the change long before they did. The discipline in the department over which the discharged teacher presided was in a very bad state. This is borne out by all who were in a position to know. I read also a statement made by Mr. Muir that he was asked to remain. This was contradicted by the secretary of the board, Mr. Walker; but since this has been denied, which is now several days ago, Mr. Muir in his communications has not referred to the matter again. If such be the character of his letters they cannot be taken for much. He is evidently an equivocator, and the truth is not in him. TRUTH.
